Questions that a reconnaissance team could look into

- Does Mexico require that schools be designed to a higher performance standard?
- Were there mandatory retrofits for existing older schools to meet a certain performance objective?
- If there were mandatory retrofits, how did these schools perform?
- What role were schools assumed to play in a post-disaster situation?
- What role did the schools actually play after the earthquake?
- For future: what is the timeline for schools reopening? (i.e. after the Central Italy earthquake schools were opened in tents because they were a high priority for communities)
